Dear Martin

Thanks very much for running the workshop for the management team at Ford Credit. The programme and venue that you set up enabled us to spend some time reviewing our current role and operations and then, looking at where we want to get to, think about the path we could take.

I think it was interesting that the two groups had some similar and some different ideas which could be merged into a common plan that we could agree on.

It was also good that you pulled defined opinions out of some quieter managers who benefitted from your neutral facilitating and the off-site environment.

Thanks very much and when we next look for such a session I will call you !
