CATRO

To Whom it may Concern

I wish to comment most favourably on the help and advice this College has received from Catro, in clarifying the thinking about our objectives.

Most teachers are totally immersed in their daily tasks and find it difficult to stand back and view the big picture. In an effort to create an atmosphere of objectivity in our Development Planning we looked for outside help. Most generously Catro offered this to us on a Pro Bono basis. As a Charitable Trust with little spare finance we were delighted with their offer.

Catro, through the services of Martin Vosecký, led a brainstorming session with our Policy Committee to identify and analyse the strengths and weaknesses of the College. This session was excellently led and managed and it set a purposeful Agenda for an In-Service Training day led again by Martin. The work and commitment shown by everyone on that day (a Saturday!) was tremendous and contributed greatly to the planning process of our College.

The momentum generated has led to the determination of the need for a Five Year Plan which is now being debated.

Without the help of Catro I believe we would still be pursuing unfocused debates and have no clear view of the way ahead.

I recommend Catro and their Consultation services without reservation.

Yours faithfully,

Albert Hudspeth
Headmaster
